

Many Christians withhold baptism from their children, being unpersuaded that infant baptism is biblical. Others baptize their children, but don't really understand why. Gregg Strawbridge has written the perfect antidote for both groups – a punchy, persuasive book, marshaling the vast weight of biblical support for the Reformed doctrine of infant baptism.

—Rev'd Dr Steve Jeffery, Minister of Emmanuel Evangelical Church, London, England

The genius of this book is that it does not merely present a Scriptural vision for a covenantal and baptismal theology but that it presents a covenantal and baptismal theology for a Scriptural vision. In other words, Gregg Strawbridge has not simply marshaled proof texts in order to ride a particular doctrinal hobby-horse as much as he has offered us a glimpse of a fully-orbed Biblical worldview. This will now be a go-to resource for my own pastoral ministry.

—George Grant, Pastor of Parish Presbyterian Church, Franklin, TN

YOU & YOUR HOUSEHOLD

THE BIBLICAL CASE
FOR INFANT BAPTISM

REV. GREGG STRAWBRIDGE (Ph.D.) ministered as a Reformed Baptist for more than eight years before embracing paedobaptism. He has served as the first pastor of All Saints Church (CREC) in Lancaster, PA since 2001. He has debated/dialogued with Larry Dyer (author of Baptism: The Believer's First Obedience), James White (Reformed Baptist) and Pat Donahue (Church of Christ) on infant baptism. His other publications include The Case for Covenantal Infant Baptism (ed.), The Case for Covenant Communion (ed.), and Classical and Christian Education. Many of his other articles related to this subject are available at WordMp3.com. Gregg and his wife Sharon, have three daughters (Joy, Jenna and Julie).

 Wordmp3.com

 K KUYPERIAN PRESS

GREGG STRAWBRIDGE